Leadership • Michael D. Bailey, CEO

Michael Bailey has been an entrepreneur and leader in the healthcare community for 30 years. Since 2016, he has served as CEO of American Health Partners, based in Franklin, Tennessee, where he leads 800+ employees in four divisions and 16 states.

Bailey has been a founder and co-founder of multiple healthcare businesses. His entrepreneurial drive helps him recognize business opportunities and mobilize the resources to explore their viability.

As a result, his business ventures have created good, stable jobs that support local economies. Bailey credits much of his success to the mentoring he received throughout his career, and he's committed to mentoring other young leaders.

"It's made me very proud to have been involved in the development of young leaders in our industry and to know I've helped mentor so many who are making a positive impact."

Michael Bailey

Through the many connections and partnerships he's established with dedicated individuals, Bailey has tapped into emerging market needs and led in the development of new healthcare companies and services that benefit patients, members, and stockholders.

At American Health Partners, Bailey has brought together a team of seasoned healthcare executives who have helped stabilize the business and change its trajectory. These leaders have expanded the company's behavioral healthcare footprint and launched a Medicare Advantage product especially for seniors living in long-term care facilities. In addition, the management team has been enhancing company facilities and creating a work environment that is attractive to both current and future employees.

Prior to taking the helm at American Health Partners, Bailey was president and CEO of Unity Physician Partners; founder, president and CEO of Windsor Health Group, an early leader in providing Medicare Advantage health plans; founder and COO of MedSolutions (now Evicore); and CFO for Vanderbilt's health insurance company, VHP Community Care.
